Ace Auto Repair management and our entire service team wants to thank all of our customers here in West Jordan and throughout southern metro Salt Lake City. We appreciate your trusting us with your auto repairs and maintenance for the past 11 years.

As owners of a small business in Utah, we're grateful for the support of our community as we have worked to build our business. We've run our auto repair shop according to our personal values, and we're very proud of our team here and the service we provide our customers. We are committed to providing every vehicle owner with the highest quality of workmanship, a fair price, and the best personal service in our region.

How Communities Benefit from Small Business Customers

Small Business Saturday: Of course, when you choose Ace Auto Repair and other small businesses, you're helping strengthen the West Jordan's community. For example, doing business with a small local company:

Helps create local jobs	Over 30 million small businesses throughout the U.S. employ more than 47% of the nation's workforce.
Grows the local economy	Local business tax revenues are put back into the community.
Helps promote an excellent local service culture	Small business operators and their staff are known for taking time to provide a better experience for customers.
Increases charitable giving from your town	Local businesses donate more than 200% above the rate big businesses give to local charitable causes.
Promotes local innovation	Smaller teams outperform large competitors with better custom solutions to meet customers' individual needs.
Helps a successful local population	Spending at local businesses helps local entrepreneurs reach their goals, which helps develop a successful community.

Ace Customers Benefit from Small Service Business

As a small auto repair service business customer, you also personally receive many essential advantages that big national chain branches cannot deliver as well. For example:

Better responsiveness: When you call Ace Auto Repair, you will find that our response to your needs is consistently quicker than from a large chain of auto service centers. From answering the phone to reporting diagnoses to finishing the work on your vehicle.

- Greater value: Local auto service centers and other small businesses don't have the huge overhead costs national brands carry, so we can offer high quality at lower prices.
- More creative solutions: Local entrepreneurs are more focused on our customers' needs and tend to strive harder to provide effective solutions faster than big chains do.
- Higher quality service: Small business teams have a much more personal experience with the long-term effects of providing the best possible service to every person.
- Business relationships prioritized: Small businesses in small markets work more diligently to build lasting relationships in their community. So, customers are never just another number.
